NERIM GROUP OF INSTITUTIONS

(NEWSLETTER)

2022

NERIM, 2022

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Work gives meaning to our lives. It enhances our self esteem. When you bring your highest talent and deepest devotion into the work you do, you set yourself for a richer, happier and more fulfilling experience of living; and life is not about winning or losing, rather living it to its fullest extent, constantly working and contributing in the best possible way.

NERIM, more than as an academic institution, has evolved as an academic home for the students which imbibes emotional bond between NERIMians and their academic guardians. During its journey NERIM has achieved many milestones and these milestones are the result of numerous small...small steps that we walk everyday in the form of teaching, training, research, activities, assignments, field work, project work, internships and industry interface.

Newsletter is the mirror which recollects, recognises, records, reflects, and reproduces all these digitally to make it part of the institutional repository. NERIM's newsletter is one such initiative to record and showcase this eventful and meaningful journey during the last one year. Deba Prasad Misra and Dr. Arunav Barua have walked the extra mile to make it possible to present this newsletter on NERIM's foundation day. This beautiful and long awaited effort would not have been possible without the significant contribution made by NERIMians and Team NERIM in the field of academics, research, consultancy, and social initiatives. I firmly believe that we will continue to publish our newsletter on a regular basis.

Best wishes,
Prof. (Dr) Sangeeta Tripathi,
DIRECTOR

REGISTRAR'S COLUMN

The covid-19 Pandemic assailed us all, bringing about a total disruption in our Institutes academic environment for nearly two academic sessions just as in the case with other educational institutions around the world. However, it is to the credit of the faculty, Students Staff and the Authority that despite the unprecedented Pandemic, the teaching learning processes of all batches could be successfully continued in the online mode. Our 'Newsletter' and the annual magazine 'Nerimian' could not be published during this period. This time, as the normal way of functioning has already started and the teaching learning Process is also going on in full swing in the normal offline mode, so we have decided to publish our institutional Newsletter, which we firmly believe, will be a compendium of information about the institute including the achievements and accolades of the depts.. Obviously, a newsletter is a printed report concerning the different activities of an organization. It may be considered grey literature which is the most common form of serial publications. The news of a Newsletter should cover news from four different directions, North, East, West and South.

Since the day (16.09.2021) I took the charge of the Registrar, Nerim Group of Institutions, I found this institute our 'Academic Home' prospering in all disciplines and today I feel very proud and happy to be a part of the Nerim family of three decades anniversary milestone (1992-2023). Our Institute appropriately called 'North Eastern Regional Institute of Management' (NERIM) established in 1992 by Nerim Educational Society with a view to promoting specialized Professional Education in the North Eastern Region of the country. The Institute is affiliated to three leading universities of the N.E Region – Gauhati University, Dibrugarh University and Assam Science and Technology University. It is noteworthy to mention here that most of our students have brought laurels to the Institute by occupying the satisfactory positions in all university examinations and many of our alumni are well placed in different establishments. Our alumni are our most valuable stakeholders. Without an iota of doubt, we can say that the growth of our Institute has been exponential and soon it will be recognized as an Elite Institute ranked at par with the leading Professional institutes of the country with the unfathomable contribution of the Chairman and Director of NERIM with immense raptures. We are confident that the Institute will reach glorious heights in the upcoming years through the combined efforts of faculty, students and authority. I wish this Newsletter a resounding success with the hope that its publication becomes a regular affair.

EDITOR'S COLUMN

We often question the necessity of certain things and doubt the effectiveness of their requirement. A newsletter would perhaps fall into such a category. Why do we need a Newsletter when we can so easily do without one? In the answer lies the reason. First, let us look at the essence of an Institution such as ours. NERIM Group of Institutions is a part of that body of institutions which fall under the ambit of educational institutions.

Being such, it is natural to assume that the environment in which such an institution operates is full of academic discourse, talk of intellectual topics, events that exemplify student growth, student performance and active participation of both educators and students alike. Being such, it is only natural that the years pile on, academic sessions move from the current academic session to the next and students are promoted from one semester to the next until they one day pass out and leave the institution, in our case, their academic home. Wouldn't it be an effort in futility if we don't have any record of their journey except their academic performance? This question brings us to the reason which we had discussed. Yes, students and their teachers and facilitators spend time not just preparing them for examinations but living a life in the institution which includes events, occasions, celebrations and achievements. For this very reason, there needs to be some sort of a record of these activities.

Yes, we keep them in memory, but human memory is frail, it is weak. As time progresses, we forget what we had experienced. After a few years we tend to even forget the names and other details of people we had been associated with for a short duration. Thus, if we trust our memory to keep records of these very important phases in a teacher's and a student's life, we would sadly discover that our memory would not be a good barometer or a record-keeper of these. Herein lies the reason for some sort of a record of these happenings which would serve to keep all of the above mentioned in our minds and hearts, should we need to recollect them at leisure. A Newsletter would serve the dual purpose of keeping records and also adding quality to the Institution.

Now that we have managed to establish why we need a Newsletter, let us dwell further and see what else a Newsletter would give us. It would add quality to our Institution just by its existence as a regular feature periodically. All institutions of repute, more so the educational institutions, have a Newsletter. Not just for the record-keeping which we have just mentioned, but as an addition of quality which serves to showcase all that is good and worth mentioning in the period which the Newsletter is formed.

We at NERIM have undertaken this nascent venture to try and highlight that, which we already know, the fact that NERIM Group of Institutions deserves a place amongst the elite educational organisations of the country. With this hopeful statement that perhaps is on the verge of coming true, we introduce our first Newsletter with a hope that you would enjoy the pages that follow.

Dr. Arunav Barua (Editor, NERIM Newsletter)
